

U.S. Giving to Israel

What can benchmark findings tell us about present and future trends?

INVITATION TO WEBINAR

“The Israeli nonprofit sector raises more than half of its philanthropic funding from abroad, with over 60% coming from the United States. Thus, the scope of giving from the U.S. to Israel is a topic of constant curiosity.”

(Giving to Israel: American Institutional Philanthropy to Israeli Nonprofits 2015-2019)

“The United States has a vibrant Jewish community with strong involvement in various philanthropic activities. How are these activities reflected across demographics and Jewish denominations? What are the motivating factors affecting Jewish household giving? Moreover, to what extent do Jewish households direct their giving toward Israel and Israeli causes?”

(American Jewish Philanthropy 2022: Giving to Religious and Secular Causes in the U.S. and to Israel)

Two separate timely studies shed light on these questions and serve as a benchmark to reflect on the impact of the recent and unfolding war in Israel and the uprise in antisemitism across the United States.

Join us for a presentation and discussion on June 20, 2024

11:00 am-12:30 pm EDT | 18:00-19:30 IST

Register Here

PRESENTERS:

Shira Ruderman
Executive Director
the Ruderman Family Foundation

Hanna Shaul Bar Nissim
Deputy Director U.S.
the Ruderman Family Foundation

Jamie Levine Daniel
Associate Professor of Nonprofit
Management and Public Service
Robert F. Wagner Graduate School of Public Service, New York University

DISCUSSANTS:

Theodore Sasson
Ruderman Scholar-in-Residence, INSS
Professor of Jewish Studies, Middlebury College

Noah D. Drezner
Professor of Higher Education
Teachers College, Columbia University