Scott Turow was born in Chicago in 1949. He graduated with high honors from Amherst College in 1970. He was Edith Mirrielees Fellow at Stanford University Creative Writing Center from 1970 - 1972. From 1972 - 1975, Mr. Turow taught Creative Writing at Stanford as E. H. Jones Lecturer. In 1975, he entered Harvard Law School and graduated with honors in 1978. From 1978 - 1986, he was an Assistant United States Attorney in Chicago and served as lead counsel in a number of prosecutions related to corruption in the legal profession connected to Operation Greylord, a federal investigation of corruption into the Illinois judiciary. Mr. Turow continues to work as an attorney, concentrating on white collar criminal defense, while also devoting a substantial amount of time to pro bono matters.

Scott Turow's books have been translated into more than 40 languages, sold more than 30 million copies world-wide and have been adapted into a full-length film and two television miniseries.
