

WHO WE ARE

Cardozo is the law school of Yeshiva University, the largest Jewish University in the United States. We were named for Benjamin N. Cardozo, the second Jewish justice on the U.S. Supreme Court. The law school draws inspiration from transcendent Jewish values and aims to strengthen society by shaping solutions to the pressing legal problems of the day. Here are some highlights:

- Home of the comprehensive FAME Center for Fashion, Arts, Media & Entertainment Law; Filmmakers Legal Clinic; the Tech Startup Clinic; Data Law Initiative; and the Cardozo Patent Diversity Project.
- We are a pioneer in practical skills, experiential learning and simulation courses, which are open to LL.M. students. Our diverse classrooms include lawyers and law students from more than 30 countries and 49 U.S. states.
- The Cardozo Law Institute in Holocaust and Human Rights is a leading global center for the study, teaching and promotion of human rights and atrocity prevention.
- Home of the Israeli Supreme Court Project, which translates important cases into English.
- Our prime location in New York City offers unparalleled opportunities and connections in all legal fields.
- Individualized attention to achieve your career goals, with a designated career counselor.

CARDOZO LAW PARTNERSHIP WITH ISRAEL

A Unique Opportunity for Israeli Lawyers and Students to Earn an LL.M. Degree in the Heart of New York City

CARDOZO
Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law

As the flagship Jewish university in the United States, our mission is to educate our students to become the leaders of tomorrow. We offer an opportunity to create connections between cultures and to build a better future. We teach the lawyers of tomorrow to think about and solve global legal and business issues. Through our programs, you will deepen your understanding of legal practices in the United States while serving clients all over the world. Our graduates have built successful careers upon strong, universal foundations that promote honor, integrity and care in the legal profession. I hope you will consider joining our LL.M. program. I am very excited that Cardozo is expanding Yeshiva's presence in Israel, and I am honored to play a role in educating the international lawyers of tomorrow.

Dr. Rabbi Ari Berman
President, Yeshiva University

Lawyers make a difference in people's lives every day. They provide solutions to business challenges, advise international firms on brand protection and work hand-in-hand with CEOs and others to provide strategic counsel on a multitude of issues. There is no better place to hone these skills than New York City, a business and legal center where we develop creative lawyers for creative industries. Here at Cardozo, you'll gain a critical legal perspective that gives you an edge for your career success, whether you practice in Israel, the United States or across the globe.

Our LL.M. program is designed to meet the needs of distinguished, early and mid-career lawyers. With an LL.M. degree in Intellectual Property from Cardozo, you'll be ready to face your organization's biggest legal challenges and add value to your clients' matters. Thank you for considering Cardozo. We work hard to make our LL.M. program the best in the world.

EARN AN LL.M. DEGREE IN THE HEART OF NEW YORK CITY

Our location in the heart of Manhattan provides students with excellent career opportunities. When it's time for a study break, New York's world-class museums, theater, dance, music and sporting events are at your doorstep.

LL.M. students have access to Cardozo's innovative clinics and other experiential learning opportunities during their second semester. Opportunities include:

TECH STARTUP CLINIC | Students provide potential startups with pro bono legal services. The clinic guides startups through entity formation, funding questions, intellectual property issues, commercialization strategies and operational and employment matters.

FILMMAKERS LEGAL CLINIC | Students provide free transactional, intellectual property and First Amendment legal services to visual advocates, filmmakers and video journalists working to move the social justice needle and diversify the stories that are told through media.

THE BLOCKCHAIN PROJECT | This project brings together academics, technologists, policymakers and members of the private sector for symposia, workshops and events that explore blockchain's impact on law, government and society. The program provides training to law students and lawyers about blockchain technology and how to develop blockchain-based legal agreements.

THE CARDOZO CORPORATE INITIATIVE | This program matches recent Cardozo graduates with corporate legal departments for a one-year term at a flexible starting salary.

THE BUCHMANN FACULTY OF LAW, TEL AVIV UNIVERSITY

Cardozo School of Law is proud to have entered a new partnership with The Buchmann Faculty of Law, Tel Aviv University. Under this new agreement:

- All Buchmann Faculty of Law, Tel Aviv University exchange students who have finished a semester at Cardozo can apply to transfer to the LL.M. program upon completion of their degree requirements at Tel Aviv University.
- They can earn the LL.M. degree by completing an additional full-time semester at Cardozo.
- All credits earned in the exchange semester will count toward the 24 credits required for the LL.M. degree.
- This pathway allows Tel Aviv University law students to stay at Cardozo in consecutive semesters, transferring to the LL.M. degree after their exchange semester; or to return to Cardozo at a later term and complete the LL.M. semester within three years of their start of the exchange semester at Cardozo.
- Tuition charges will not apply during the exchange semester at Cardozo, guaranteeing students a cheaper and faster way of earning an LL.M. degree.

Tel Aviv University law students can choose to start their LL.M. semester in the spring or the fall terms. The number of students who wish to follow this pathway shall remain flexible, and we encourage all interested students to notify their international advisor of their plan to do so.
